BIO

Through the musical theatre to singer-songwriter pipeline, Joe Grisanzio conveys compelling stories through his writing as a pop artist. Fusing vintage style with modern themes, he is a Jersey Shore-based singer, songwriter, and producer, inspired by artists such as Amy Winehouse, Adele, and Bruno Mars. Joe and his band tour for performances at festivals, small venues, and private events in the Northeast. Joe has hit the stage at renowned venues including Mercury Lounge, The Green Room 42, and Shrine. His forthcoming debut album, Grisanti, features a unique rawness and authenticity within the realm of modern pop music, focused on hope and bringing people together through hardship. Joe's existing releases and social media can all be found under @joegrisanzio.
